Dear Instructor,

Thank you for your interest in Sanford Harmony, a program designed to teach pre-kindergarten and elementary school children about cooperation, empathy, and effective communication. We are pleased to share with you the enclosed Sanford Harmony toolkit. The Harmony materials have been made available through the generosity of entrepreneur and philanthropist, T. Denny Sanford.

Mr. Sanford generously contributed to National University to establish the Sanford Education Programs, located at the University headquarters in La Jolla, California. Mr. Sanford selected National University to disseminate Sanford Harmony in elementary schools and organizations throughout the United States. Sanford Harmony is available at no cost to schools or districts, and provides teacher training and support, ongoing consultation, specialized instructional materials, sample lesson plans, and instructional video modules, enabling seamless implementation of the program.

Together, we can realize Denny’s dream of making the world a better place by teaching our youth important communication skills and supporting their social emotional development. We look forward to working with you to implement Sanford Harmony within your organization.

Best wishes,

Sanford Harmony Team
